"We are excited to expand our portfolio by partnering with Civeo to create sustainable economic opportunities for the Six Nations community," said Matt Jamieson, President & CEO of SNGRDC. "As a leading provider of workforce accommodations, facilities management and hospitality solutions, Civeo brings years of hands-on experience to the partnership. I look forward to working together and building a relationship that generates long-term value for both organizations."

Civeo's broad industry expertise and operational experience will provide valuable insight on business development activities, while SNGRDC will leverage Indigenous procurement opportunities and provide pathways to employment for members of SNGRDC.

"Civeo has a longstanding history of working closely with Indigenous communities to explore mutually beneficial investment, employment, and business prospects," said Andy Fraser, President of Civeo Canada. "As part of our ongoing commitment to economic reconciliation, we are inspired to grow our new partnership with the Six Nations community and to share in the commercial potential of our joint efforts."

Civeo is a Gold member of the Canadian Council of Indigenous Business' (CCIB) Partnership Accreditation in Indigenous Relations (PAIR) program. This certification underscores the focus Civeo has put into its progressive procurement practices, training and recruitment programs, and ensuring an inclusive work culture.
